Dear Classmates and Guests,

April 9, 2011

Can you believe we are together again, but this time to celebrate fifty years since our days at Dan McCarty High School? As we drive around Fort Pierce, making our 'pilgrimages' to places our personal memories are stored, we find them present even where the buildings which held those memories no longer stand. Some of you (you know who you are) still remember when your "creative painting" proudly stood atop a water tower near Coach Slay's house or a barn on North Indian River Drive. Many of us return with a strong yearning to see, smell and hear the ocean once again, and to experience a flood of childhood and adolescent memories. Thirty-two names appear herein of classmates who have died, but whose presence may be felt strongly among us this weekend. Each of them represent links in the remarkable chain of classmates who comprised the class of 1961.

A weekend seems so little time after fifty years to share stories, memories, joys and sorrows with each other. The Reunion Committee welcomes each of you and your guests and hopes that this reunion is filled with warm memories, rekindled friendships, surprising joys and reconnections with which to return home. This was a labor of love.

The Reunion Committee included the following:

Mike Addison

Kay Davidson Delage

Bobby and Alice Gaskill

Carl Lewis

Charlie Zemina

Gloria Dorman Barbone

Beverly Klepp Feldhaus

John Paul Jones

Merry Parent

Gr grandchildren: Riley (2), Henry (4), Brent (6)
Education: Florida State University graduate (my wife, too)
Occupation: Retired since 2000 from a company that manufactured packaging and processing items for the food industry.
Interests: Spending time with grandchildren. My most interesting job was working for NASA security at Cape Kennedy during the time of the first moon launch.
Travels: France, Spain, Switzerland, Canada, Mexico, Hawaii and Bermuda.
We used to take an annual trip to various western ski resorts, but my orthopedic surgeon wound up making too much money from those, so we have substituted Caribbean islands for those trips, much to my wife's delight.
Accomplishments: After graduating from FSU with an ROTC commission, I got an all-expense-paid trip to Southeast Asia in 1968, courtesy of Uncle Sam, where I can claim one of the few notable accomplishments of my life by being awarded a Silver Star and three Bronze Stars for my actions in combat there. The Purple Heart I was awarded encouraged me to seek other employment so I got out of the army after my two-year obligation expired.

Children: Five ages 41-47 (joined families)
Grandchildren: Six ages 3-21
Occupation: NSA for 35 years retired 1998 as Senior Executive. My only bragging right; I retired as one of 320 seniors in a population of 25,000. Traveled the world around and loved every minute of it.

Interests: Love to travel (road trips in the US and Europe and we just completed our 25th cruise. Golf, gourmet cooking (it's the one hobby that requires imbibing wine during the entire process of prep and consumption), and family. Favorite drink: Beefeater Martini high and dry. Veg and fruit gardening at the home in PA. Corvettes (see picture). Spiritually, I am a trained Stephen Minister and Leader (Google it) and a member of the Spiritual Care Team at Venice Regional Medical Center in Venice, FL. I think at some point we all realize we have far more to give, both personally and financially, than we can ever use ourselves. My view on life at this point. One final note. While we will not make our 50th, and I regret that, we do want to visit class members who live even close to one of our travel routes. I look forward to finding you and others on one of our journeys.

We asked our classmates to include memories of Dr. Maxwell King

He called Emery to the office and made him carry a football around school for a week because we were holding hands between classes. Can you imagine that? It is a good thing he isn't a principal now days. I guess he was what they call a “Resource Officer” now. This was also my most embarrassing moment in high school.

~Faye Newbern Higgs

In our home, Dr. King's name was spoken of reverently, as he seems to be held in high regard by all who know him. Since he was responsible for having promoted my mother to Dean of Girls, I'm probably one of our few classmates who has no answer to the question.....what didn't you get caught doing during your high school years!

~Kay Davidson Delage

My high school sweetheart was Jed Drews (DMHS '60) In high school his I.Q. score tested at 147. He got a perfect score on his college entrance test. The teachers thought he cheated. He had to take the test a second time and made a perfect score again. Dr. Maxwell King recognized his potential and got him a scholarship to Indian River Jr. College. Jed became a special investigative reporter and photographer for the Sun Sentinel in Fort Lauderdale and won many awards for his journalism.

~Gloria Dorman Barbone

How lucky we were to be at DMHS when Dr. King was the principal! He had great expectations for us and I believe we tried to live up to those. He was a wonderful administrator. I remember his generosity through the years following our graduation, too. Whenever asked, Dr. King would write glowing letters of recommendation. Considering his stature in our community and the education world, I feel certain that I was given jobs and opportunities simply because of his encouragement and support! How could we have ever guessed of our principal back then that his star was on the rise, he would achieve great things, and touch so many lives throughout his distinguished career. Thank, you, Dr. King!

~Jan Jordan Neal Patrick

What a wonderful man you are. Not comparing any one of us to the other. We felt like we were always special in your eyes.

~Wanda Hazelief Walker

I remember my mother telling me how much she respected him for his educational accomplishments. She felt that he had overcome great adversity. I remember his graciousness.

~Bob Green

I remember Dr. King as a great administrator who set boundaries, but was very kind and fair. Sorta' like "walks softly, but carries a big stick"! A very nice man and a gentleman.

~Caroline Register Mocko

I remember Dr. King being soooo distinguished looking.
~Janie Love Harrill

Dr. King stopped at 'Gregory's Texaco' to fill up after a close football game. As I cleaned the windshield and serviced his car, he walked over and congratulated me for playing a good game. It meant the world to me.
~Ken Gregory

My memory of Dr. King is also my most embarrassing memory of high school. Spring of our senior year, Barbara Chapman and I were walking down the hallway holding hands. Dr. King was walking behind us and told us to meet him immediately in his office. He let us both know that our behavior was not acceptable. He knew Barbara's father (Methodist minister) and told us how disappointed Barbara's father would be. Needless to say we never held hands in the hallway again. Good thing we never got caught in Homeroom early morning.
~Karl Kortemeier

UPDATES ON THE LAST 50 YEARS

How did you meet your soul-mate, spouse, partner or significant other?

I met John Anderson (Class of '60) during the summer of 1956 at church Vacation Bible School. We dated through high school and married in 1963. This year we will celebrate our 48th wedding anniversary.
~Joannie McClellan Anderson

At a community recycling meeting in Montrose, Colorado.
~Caroline Register Mocko

Mel and I met at Hyatt Regency/Atlanta. We realized we had something special and here we are - 32 exciting years later!
~Ken Gregory

I was visiting my friend Shirlene Jones one day and happened to meet the lady living in the other side of their duplex apartment, Mrs. Brown. In the course of our conversation, she said, "You should meet my son!" My reaction - "Oh, right!!". Well, I did -tall, dark and handsome he was. We married a couple of years later and had 41 great years and two super kids together before I lost him to cancer five years ago.
~Harriet Moore Brown

I met my husband, Jimmy Barbone, in January, 1983, on the day my divorce was final from my previous husband. We were introduced by a mutual friend. We were married in 1984.
~Gloria Dorman Barbone

We met on the internet.
~Dick Mann

I met my husband in college.

~Janie Harill Love

I first saw my husband, Fred Neal, on the day he registered at DMHS in our junior year. Valerie Ripley came to the student lounge and told us there was a "cute" new student in the office. We all ran down to see for ourselves. I remember saying, "he's not sooo cute. Little did I know that I would spend 40 wonderful years with Fred - until he died of cancer in 2005. I'm now married to a great guy - since September, 2010, Bill Patrick. I met Bill when he came into the library where I worked to talk to me about doing a presentation on Mississippi history. I doubt that we will have 40 years left, but we'll get a good start

~Jan Jordan Neal Patrick

I met Ray at a church youth fellowship basketball game. We will be married 46 years this June!

~Betty Palmer Hall

I worked at the same place he did...and seemed to keep checking him out and he me.

~Wanda Hazelief Walker

I met my love and husband of 49 years at the Sunrise Theater when we were in high school at DMHS.

~Faye Newbern Higgs

Patsy and I met when she was ten years old. She and her family attended Fairlawn Baptist Church in Ft. Pierce. We started dating as teenagers and married when I was a senior in college in 1965.

~Bob Green

After 26 years of being single, I met my husband through a newspaper personal's ad while living in Portsmouth, N.H. He wrote it.

~Kay Davidson Delage

Tell us something about your life since DMHS that would surprise us.

I run and play in three weekly Texas Hold'em Tournaments. I also visit Biloxi, Tunica, Vegas, Tampa Hardrock playing poker.

~Karl Kortemeier

After "looking for love in all the wrong places", I married a Lutheran Minister in 2004, and we are living happily ever after!

~Caroline Register Mocko

Ken Gregory - Presbyterian Elder - if that doesn't surprise you - nothing will.

~Ken Gregory

Ray and I enjoy 4-wheeling in our ATV both here and in the North Carolina Mountains!

~Betty Palmer Hall

Only that I have enjoyed the life that God has given me and love life and living it well.

~Wanda Hazelief Walker

The class would probably be surprised to hear that I have made trips from Florida out through Texas, south through Mexico, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica on a motorcycle. I also flew to those same places as a missionary pilot.

~Bob Green

I succeeded in retiring at age 40.

~Dick Mann

I worked for the FBI in Washington, D.C.

~Faye Newbern Higgs

Sonny and Molly Strong were my role models for an appreciation of reptiles (more specifically, snakes), which has been a lifelong interest of mine as well.
~Kay Davidson Delage

If you could write a book, what would the subject be?

“What was I thinking?”
~Caroline Register Mocko

“Life -One Day At A Time – and Counting”
~Ken Gregory

If I wrote a book it would be about the Dorman family who pioneered Florida prior to the Civil War. I have a lot of information from my Aunt who died at age 101, and who is buried in the Ft. Pierce Cemetery. I have letters and videos which tell about their lives and achievements. The Dorman name can be found at Florida State University (Dorman Hall).
~Gloria Dorman Barbone

If I could write a good book, it would be either a mystery or suspense novel (gosh, Greg Iles was in a serious automobile accident last night – thinking of him because he's one of my favorites!), or a humorous book that might cause readers to consider “what really matters” in life.
~Jan Jordan Neal Patrick

“Interesting People I Have Met”
~Betty Palmer Hall

“How Did I Get This Far In Life?”
~Wanda Hazelief Walker

“FIDO – Forget It and Drive On!!”

~Fay Newbern Higgs

It has been my privilege to write four books, two in English and two in Spanish. They are written about topics having to do with the gospel ministry and missionary work.

~Bob Green

“Living Life To the Fullest” - Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today....You'll probably like it and want to do it AGAIN tomorrow!!!

~Dick Mann

“Give Me A Dull Moment”

~Janie Love Harrill

“Mortal Shepherds” - a fictional novel set within the Episcopal Church or a children's book about my granddaughter, “Skatie Katie and the Hockey Hickey.”

~Kay Davidson Delage

What do you believe now that you didn't believe in high school?

My parents were right!!

~Caroline Register Mocko

I'm not in control, GOD is.

~Ken Gregory

I believe that you can accomplish anything you choose in life, if you make goals for yourself.

~Gloria Dorman Barbone

That we are all the same and that there is a place in this world for each of us.

~Wanda Hazelief Walker

High school is only a stage of life...not life or death.
~Faye Newbern Higgs

That my parents knew more than I did. Ha! Didn't we all think we had an edge over our parents in the matter of knowledge?
~Bob Green

There is a God and life hereafter...I probably believed then, and just didn't think about it.
~Dick Mann

The thing I believe now that I didn't in high school was how very smart my parents were.
~Janie Love Harrill

How quickly gravity moves body parts south over time.
~Kay Davidson Delage

What do you see, hear, smell, taste or use in your current life that brings a particular high school friend, friends, or memory to mind?

I never hear the music "Malaguena" (my favorite) without remembering Howard Higgs playing it on the school cafeteria piano. He was so talented, but so quiet and ever so nice.
~Joannie McClellan Anderson

The smell of the river and ocean and eating fish. I joined Facebook last year and it has been a wonderful medium to find old friends from school. I have reconnected with my best friend from high school, Ann Cali (class of '60). Also I found Walter Teasdale, who was my childhood playmate.
~Gloria Dorman Barbone

I still listen to the music of the 50's & 60's and remember high school dances, and dancing with best friend Mary Ellen Lattner Harris. Whenever I am near the ocean, the smell and sounds of the ocean remind me of the beach and water around Ft. Pierce and wonderful memories of days on the beach, water skiing in and around the inlet, sunbathing, getting Dr. Branca's car stuck in the sand on south beach and being rescued by the "Sea Scouts" (Elaine was driving!). So, in my current life, when I experience these sounds and smells, the memories of high school life engulf me with happy feelings and make me smile thinking about all the fun we had at DMHS.

~Caroline Register Mocko

A cold glass of O.J.. (remember the Tropicana OJ machine in the gym and how we used it daily?)

~Ken Gregory

Shorthand. Oh, how I hated that course because it was either perfect or wrong. No in-between. Mine is still not perfect, but it serves me very well as my boss and I prefer face-to-face dictation. (Guess we're a bit old-fashioned!)

~Harriet Moore Brown

Eagles always remind me of DMHS. Our eagle is at the St. Lucie County Historical Museum.

~Betty Palmer Hall

Always the ocean...meeting at the ocean and having fun.

~Wanda Hazelief Walker

It is truly amazing how many times high school friends and events come to mind - and have throughout the years. I think we all lived in a much simpler time and had such happy times in our high school days. Hearing a song will often bring back memories of dances and good times. When I hear a Johnny Mathis song, I remember sleepovers with Kay D. and others when we fell asleep listening to those records. Just yesterday, I was introduced to a man who said his name was T. John. It reminded me of John Paul and how we always called him by both names.

~Jan Jordan Neal Patrick

An obituary....only kidding. The telephone...a lost art. My old high school friends don't email either. We talk on the phone...in complete sentences.

~Faye Newbern Higgs

When I see the beach and smell the salt air I think of my brother Jerry and some of our friends, Jack Favorite, Edsel Osborne, Elgin Bowers and others because we spent a lot of time together at the beach and water skiing. When I read about Pontius Pilate in the Bible, I think of Rich (he had "Ponch-is-pilot" painted on his speed boat)

~Bob Green

Oldies music from the 50's & 60's, and "We were Soldiers" movie..

~Dick Mann

As far as memories from high school, it is always things that I hear (i.e. the music). "Tears On My Pillow" reminds me of the skating rink. Buddy Holly reminds me of the day he was killed in the plane crash.

~Janie Love Harrill

My mom's focus on vocabulary, grammar, spelling and sentence structure is used daily in my professional and personal writing. And the sound of crashing waves and smell of the ocean makes me homesick always for Ft. Pierce.

~Kay Davidson Delage

Who was your favorite teacher and why?

Adelaide Scharfachwertdt was a gracious and kind lady with a beautiful sense of humor. You learned in her classroom because she was a gifted and wise teacher.

~Joanne McClellan Anderson

My favorite teachers were Coach John Lanier and Mrs. Angelita Molnar. I loved the World History Class that Coach Lanier taught. I have had a lifelong interest in archeology and anthropology. Mrs. Molnar said I spoke Spanish without an accent. A couple of times when she was out, I took over the Spanish class and conducted the lesson for the day.

~Gloria Dorman Barbone

Favorite teachers: Mrs. Currier/Latin & French. She was so "proper and professional" - a no-nonsense type with a very subtle sense of humor - and we learned our subject matter! I also enjoyed World History with Coach Lanier - he was funny, sarcastic and there was never a dull moment.

~Jan Jordan Neal Patrick

Mrs. Wilkerson, without a doubt. She treated all of us as adults and expected nothing but the best.

~Ken Gregory

My favorite teacher was Mrs. Molnar. She was always interested in her students and I ended up taking 2 years of college Spanish with her.

~Betty Palmer Hall

Mrs. Davidson was not my teacher, but Dean of Girls. She was a wonderful spirit, kind and understanding with a great sense of humor! She always made me “think” about what I was going to do, even though I might go ahead and do it anyway! Mr. Dartnell was a favorite teacher....it was a fun class, and I loved his home movies of his travels and how he told us he and Mrs. Dartnell ate mashed potatoes every night, just used food color to keep them from getting boring! He was also a great inventor! I remember the time he put Jimmy Runtè and me in the “closet” for talking (or something) and we found a musical instrument he had made and proceeded to play it....I don't remember what happened to us, but Runtè probably said it was not him making the noise! At least I think it was Runtè ...and also in that class, Tom Haney and Tommy Brack!

~Caroline Register Mocko

Mr. Green...10th grade...he was CUTE and made class fun.

~Faye Newbern Higgs

Mr. Osteen. His eyes were crossed, so it was hard to tell where or at whom he was looking...but mainly he was a great gentleman and taught geometry.

~Bob Green

Mrs. Kuhn...I liked history then and still do, thanks to her. Thus my love of traveling to faraway places.

~Dick Mann

My favorite teacher was Coach Lanier because history was always my favorite subject.

~Janie Love Harrill

Mr. Dartnell, who would have done anything to make otherwise dry subjects (physics) exciting....and he did!

~Kay Davidson Delage

What was your most embarrassing moment in high school?

Coming in dead last in the 330 yard leg of the mile medley relay in district track meet in Miami. I was embarrassed but also very disappointed to cost the relay team first place.

~Bob Green

Talking with girls. I was the shy type....remember?of course you don't. I was too shy

~Dick Mann

Going to the Coast Guard Station on South Beach looking for cute guys. Found one, too - a blond Italian named Lorenzo.

~Harriet Moore Brown

When I was 16 years old, I needed facial surgery and had to wear a hard cast on my head for skin grafting. Elaine Branca Brennen's father was the surgeon. I had to go to school with this ugly bandage on half my face. It was very embarrassing for me.

~Gloria Dorman Barbone

The most embarrassed I ever was in high school was when I made the decision to skip an important swim meet to attend a State National Honor Society Convention. I did that so that I could run for (and win) a State Office. You might have guessed that I did not win the State NHS election. I was embarrassed and felt that I had let the swimming team down as well! It wasn't the last time in my life that I made a wrong choice either!

~Jan Jordan Neal Patrick

Hmm..let me see...there were so many...I do remember when as a senior, some friends and I skipped school (in addition to Senior Skip Day), went to the beach, got a little sunburned, but had called the school to report in sick that morning. I had to leave the beach early afternoon because I was scheduled to work that day (after school if I had gone) at Morton's Jewelers. I was thrilled to have such a great start on my summer tan in the Spring, and reported to work on time.....who should come shopping at Morton's that afternoon, none other than my friend Kay Davidson's mother, Dean of Girls at DMHS...Mrs. Margaret Davidson...I feel certain she noticed my sunburn, but in her "cool" demeanor simply asked: "Caroline how are you feeling this afternoon?"...I'm sure my "sunburn" got even redder as I realized I was busted....she never said a word!
~Caroline Register Mocko

I was intimidated by Coach John Lanier. He had a booming voice and could cut you to ribbons with his words. Needless to say, I was extremely careful in his social studies class. This particular class had several members of the football team, who sat in the back rows and were "unruly". One day he called my name and told me to leave my front row desk and move to the middle of these guys. I sat in front of Louis Carter who thought it was amusing to position his feet under my desk, lift it up and try to slide me out. Mortified of attracting Mr. Lanier's attention and trying to stay seated, I heard that loud voice say, "Miss McClellan, I would appreciate it if you would please stop disrupting my class." I now realize he knew exactly what was happening and thought it was amusing also.
~Joannie McClellan Anderson

My most embarrassing moment came while I was on the trampoline in P.E. while I was trying to touch my toes and my pants ripped. Everyone stopped and looked around at me.

~Janie Love Harrill

What didn't you get caught doing during your high school years?

Barbara Chapman and Karl Kortemeier started dating senior year, and started meeting a half hour before school in our empty homeroom. Homeroom for "Band" had only one small window to the front of the school and wasn't used till 9 am. Lock the door and a little innocent kissing was an exciting way to start school every day. Glad Dr King never caught us!

~Karl Kortemeier

Skipped school.

~Faye Newbern Higgs

I didn't get caught skipping school.

~Janie Love Harrill

I skipped school and went to the beach.

~Gloria Dorman Barbone

Skipped school to go to the beach.

~"Wanda Hazelief Walker

Maybe I'm "good", but probably just lucky. When I was doing something I shouldn't have been doing, I don't think I ever got caught...skipping school, lying about where I was going and who I was with, and the usual teenage stuff. Of course, I now suspect that my parents probably knew more than they let on!

~Jan Jordan Neal Patrick

My parents set an early curfew for me, so I would go home, then sneak back out...and once I "ran away from home" and called Mary Ellen to come and get me on the corner of Georgia Ave. and South 8th St. I had my "jewelry" to pawn and I asked her to take me to the bus station....fortunately Mary Ellen has a more level head than I do and straightened me out real quick. I think I would have died if my mother had ever found out...
~Caroline Register Mocko

I climbed the water tower at Georgia Avenmue for some "creative painting".
~Ken Gregory

I always got caught.
~Bob Green

Can't tell you - I still haven't been caught!!!!
~Dick Mann

What's the most influential book in your life since graduation?

The Bible
~Ken Gregory

The Bible
~Gloria Dorman Barbone

The Bible
~Betty Palmer Hall

Of course it is the Bible
~Wanda Hazelief Walker

The Bible
~Faye Newbern Higgs

The Bible
~Bob Green

I have had a career in librarianship so asking me which book was the most influential is sort of like asking a mother which child she loves the best! I think books that helped me grow as a person, learn new things, or discover insights and perspective that I lacked have influenced my life the most - among those are: Passages (Gail Sheehy), Summer Before the Dark (Doris Lessing), Five Smooth Stones (Ann Fairbairn). Most recently I've really enjoyed reading: The Art of Racing in the Rain (Garth Stein) and Remembering the Bones (Francis Itani.)

There's a good book written about Mississippi culture and history - largely told through a law case on which my daughter, Kathy Nester, served as the federal public defender for an accused civil rights Klansman: The Past is Never Dead (Harry MacLean.) That's only if you want to read about Kathy. (brag, brag...but, it really is a good book.) I sat by Mr. MacLean during the trial and watched him take notes! He wrote another good book, In Broad Daylight.

The most influential book in my life has been the Bible
~Janie Love Harrill

Until Today, Daily Devotions for Spiritual Growth and Peace of Mind - by Iyanla VanZant
~Caroline Register Mocko

The Power of Positive Thinking by Norman Vincent Peale
~Dick Mann

Man's Search for Meaning (Viktor Frankl)
~Kay Davidson Delage

What's still on your bucket list?

Traveling around the US in a motor home, visiting parks and historic places and all our children and grandchildren.

~Caroline Register Mocko

Not much - Mel and I have had the opportunity to do many things. We are content, but we look forward to new adventures.

~Ken Gregory

I have never had a bucket list. I have had the privilege of experiencing a lot of wonderful things in my life including traveling most states in the US, and visiting many countries in Europe. I would like to go back to Italy and spend more time.

~Gloria Dorman Barbone

Travel to Europe, Japan, Australia, Tokyo, HongKong, back to the Caribbean Islands for R&R! Attend the weddings of my granddaughters and see my great grandchildren come into the world, too!

~Jan Jordan Neal Patrick

To see more of the USA.

~Betty Palmer Hall

Just to be happy....and maybe traveling around America where I haven't been....

~Wanda Hazelief Walker

Go back to Italy one more time...retire from nursing ... travel.

~Faye Newbern Higgs

Winning the lottery, transatlantic voyage on QM11, trip into space, and seeing a lot more places throughout the world.

~Dick Mann

Attend the reunion, finish building the light sport aircraft that is in my garage, fly it, write some additional books in Spanish, being a help to others, especially mentoring younger people and to finish my life and ministry with honor.

~Bob Green

I'd like to see the rest of the US. I've seen 36 states, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, France and three provinces of Canada. I would love to take the train trip across Canada.

~Janie Love Harrill

Helping my granddaughter Katie learn to read, and writing a good book that is published.

~Kay Davidson Delage

A trip through New England when the leaves turn.

~Joannie McClellan Anderson

Believe it or not my bucket list is pretty well completed. After my Chemo treatment in 2009/2010 for Stage IV lung cancer, I made a sincere effort of using every moment wisely. I have one main desire, that is to return to Sorrento, Italy one day. Hopefully, time will allow for that to take place. On a lighter note, going to this reunion was just another plus! Hope all has been well for you over the years. I still remember our families' time together. See you soon. Take care.

~Zan Moritz Martin

The Reunion

Every ten years, as summertime nears,
An announcement arrives in the mail,
"A reunion is planned; it'll be really grand;
Make plans to attend without fail."

I'll never forget the first time we met;
We tried so hard to impress.
We drove fancy cars, smoked big cigars,
And wore our most elegant dress.

It was quite an affair; the whole class was there.
It was held at a fancy hotel.
We wined, and we dined, and we acted refined,
And everyone thought it was swell.

The men all conversed about who had been first
To achieve great fortune and fame.
Meanwhile, their spouses described their fine houses
And how beautiful their children became.

The homecoming queen, who once had been lean,
Now weighed in at one-ninety-six.
The jocks who were there had all lost their hair,
And the cheerleaders could no longer do kicks.

No one had heard about the class nerd
Who'd guided a spacecraft to the moon;
Or poor little Jane, who's always been plain;
She married a shipping tycoon.

The boy we'd decreed "most apt to succeed"
Was serving ten years in the pen,
While the one voted "least" now was a priest;
Just shows you can be wrong now and then.

They awarded a prize to one of the guys
Who seemed to have aged the least.
Another was given to the grad who had driven
The farthest to attend the feast.

They took a class picture, a curious mixture
Of beehives, crew cuts and wide ties.
Tall, short, or skinny, the style was the mini;
You never saw so many thighs.

At our next get-together, no one cared whether
They impressed their classmates or not.
The mood was informal, a whole lot more normal;
By this time we'd all gone to pot.

It was held out-of-doors, at the lake shores;
We ate hamburgers, coleslaw, and beans.
Then most of us lay around in the shade,
In our comfortable T-shirts and jeans.

By the fortieth year, it was abundantly clear,
We were definitely over the hill.
Those who weren't dead had to crawl out of bed,
And be home in time for their pill.

And now I can't wait; they've set the date;
Our fiftieth is coming, I'm told.
It should be a ball, they've rented a hall
At the Shady Rest Home for the old.

Repairs have been made on my hearing aid;
My pacemaker's been turned up on high.
My wheelchair is oiled, and my teeth have been boiled;
And I've bought a new wig and glass eye.

I'm feeling quite hearty, and I'm ready to party;
I'm gonna dance 'til dawn's early light.
It'll be lots of fun; I just hope that there's one
Other person who can make it that night.
